ABOUT Staron[®] Solid Surfaces

Staron[®] Solid Surfaces is manufactured from a safe natural mineral refined from bauxite and blended with pure acrylic resin to create a high performance solid surface. Staron[®] Solid Surfaces does not contain harmful silica. With a range of over 80 colours to select from, Staron[®] offers an extensive range of solid surface in Australia. Staron[®] can be thermoformed into flowing curves or sculpted into any shape imaginable. The flexibility of Staron[®] extends to limitless edge profiles, drop down edges, splashbacks and tile coves. The non-porous nature of Staron[®] provides a surface that no stain can penetrate - providing a durable surface that is hygienic and easy to clean. Staron[®] is also repairable and renewable. Even after years of use it can simply be sanded, thus restored back to its original condition. Staron[®] does not have any finishing polishes or sealers applied, it is the same solid material throughout its thickness. Staron[®] creates long and wide continuing surfaces with no open or conspicuous joins. No dirt trapping joins or crevices to clean, just one continuous surface that looks and performs as one piece. Staron[®] is backed by a 10-Year Warranty for peace of mind.

A high-angle photograph of a modern kitchen sink. The sink is a large, rectangular, white solid surface unit. Inside the sink, there is a rectangular insert with a brushed metal finish. A central drain with a circular metal grate is located in the middle of the insert. On the right side of the sink, there is a tall, curved, polished brass faucet. To the left of the faucet is a single-lever pull-down sprayer, and to the right is another single-lever pull-down sprayer. The sink is set into a white countertop. In the background, a window shows a view of a city street with buildings and a red fire truck. A small potted plant is visible on the left side of the countertop.
